A UNIT OF MADE EASY GROUP

Dear students,

As per the Delhi government orders, all educational institutions, including coaching institutes, have to remain closed till 31st March. Hence, all the offline classes and test series are being suspended for this duration.

Team Next IAS is trying its best that your preparation doesn't suffer due to this shutdown .For this all the possible alternatives ( like online classes and test series ) are being explored so that you can continue preparing from your home. We will intimate you of the options finalised by us in a day or two.

Next IAS offices will remain open for any support needed by our students. We will keep all the students posted with any new developments. The students can always reach the Next IAS Academic Coaches /Staff/Admin for any information or support they might need.

For the time being, kindly stay focused and continue with your preparation at personal level and take utmost care of your health. We wish you all the very best and will be available for any help at our end.
