GRIT

grit | grit | noun

1. Courage; determination that makes it possible for somebody to continue doing something difficult or unpleasant.
2. Also: Grasp. Recall. Integrate. Test. The four things you will do every week, for the next 4-5 months.

GRIT is an 4-5 months base-building programme. The prelims syllabus put in place, subject by subject, before preparation turns into a sprint. One rhythm, every week. You read. You are tested on what you can remember and on how UPSC has asked it. Most aspirants read a subject once, test once, and move on. By February they are still on basics when they should be building speed.

GRIT exists so that you are not one of them.

G GRASP	R RECALL	I INTEGRATE	T TEST
Monday, Tuesday, Thursday & Friday You read the week's subject from a reading list we give you. Specific chapters, specific sources.	Wednesday. 25 questions on what you just read. NCERT level, no tricks. The check on whether the reading stayed.	Wednesday. 25 UPSC Previous Year Questions on the same syllabus, attempted while the concept is fresh.	Sunday. 100 questions in the exam's format. The week's subject, current affairs, and questions carried forward.

The Principle. The testing effect. You retain what you retrieve, far better than what you re-read. Two retrievals a week, for eighteen weeks.

THE GRIT PLAN

WHAT IT IS: Six subject blocks and a consolidation fortnight, 12th October to 31st January. The prelims syllabus read, recalled, integrated and tested, one subject at a time, with one planned break (9–15 November) and room to get things corrected before it matters.

WHAT IT IS NOT: A revision course, a crash course, or a test series you fit around your own plan. GRIT sets the reading order and it sets the test days. Phase 2 · PTS Booster follows from 1st February.

BOOSTER

booster | 'bu:stə | noun

1. A second-stage engine. It fires only after the first has finished its work, and its job is not to lift, it is to take something already moving and push it past escape velocity.
2. Also: the 4 months from 1st February to the exam. Forty-six papers, alternate days, no new syllabus.

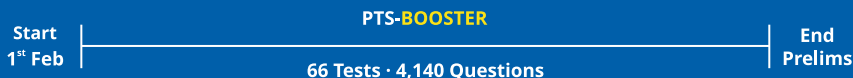

BOOSTER is a 4 months exam-conditioning programme. Nothing new is taught. By February the base is either in place or it is not, and what decides the paper from there is not how much you know but how fast and how accurately you can get it out with a clock running. Testing becomes the routine, not the checkpoint. Most aspirants spend February to May revising, because revision feels productive. It is the thing that moves the needle least.

BOOSTER exists so that what you know becomes what you score.

40 SECTIONALS 20 Half-length GS papers, 50 questions, 20 Half-length CSAT papers, 40 questions Alternate days from 1 st February.	10 GS FLT's 100 questions, two hours, the exam's own shape. Where you learn what your accuracy does across a long paper.	10 CSAT FLT's 80 questions, two hours. Ten full papers, because the one that eliminates people is the one they assumed they would clear.	06 ANUBHAV PRELIMS 3 GS and 3 CSAT, Anubhav Prelims All India Open Test run the way UPSC runs them. GS in the morning, CSAT in the afternoon.

The Principle. Spacing and desirable difficulty. A paper every other day, on syllabus you have already met, is harder than revision, which is exactly why it works. Forty-six papers, 3,340 questions, no new reading list.

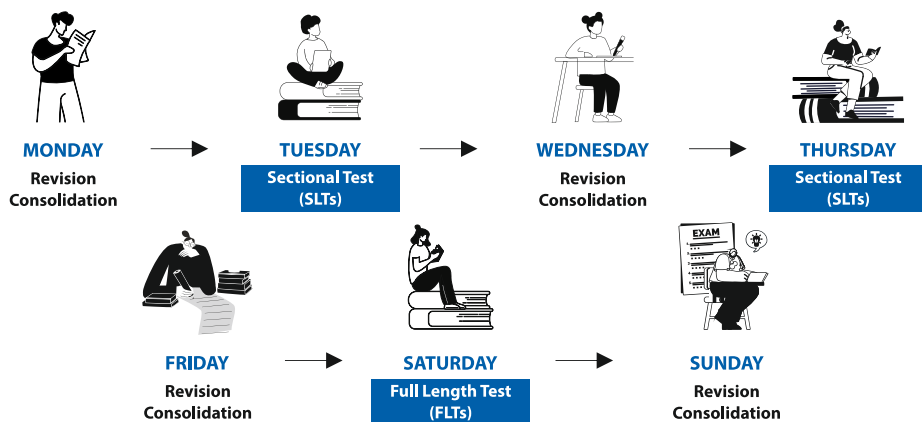

THE BOOSTER PLAN

WHAT IT IS: Alternate-day testing at exam intensity, from 1st February to the CSE 2027 Prelims. Sectionals, full-length papers, CSAT papers and simulators, in that order of build.

WHAT IT IS NOT: New syllabus, new reading lists, new sources. The Booster assumes the base is already built. If it is not, start with GRIT.
