HE PROFITS MORE WHO SERVE BEST

There was a young woman in rural Maharashtra, who was thrown out of her house with her daughter in the middle of night. Her daughter ^{was} merely 6 years old and she did not have anywhere to go. She spent her night in a cowshed and slept ~~hungry~~ with empty stomach.

From next day she started doing menial job to feed her daughter and herself. One day a boy came to her, and asked for food, as like her he also had nobody. And from here her journey started of feeding multiple orphans.

This story is of Sindhutai Sapkal also known as "mother of orphans" who in her lifetime lodged multiple orphans, fed them and educated them.

Many of them went on to become doctors, Teacher, lawyers and serve the society. This story shows despite the hardship Sindhu Bai profited more in terms of relations that she nurtured by taking care of orphans and sewing them. She proudly says that at that night she lost her family but gained over hundreds of children and thousand of grandchildren.

As the above case shows how
'Who profits more, who serves the best'

As the act of service that is done with compassion, integrity, love and dedication will lead to beautiful result that will be immeasurable, invaluable and satisfy not just the mind but also the soul.

Thus proving to be more profitable.

So now lets come to the next discussion what does profit mean..

Profit can mean different thing for different people. for some it can be gaining of material things like bank balance, big house and luxurious car. And on the other hand for some it can be the satisfaction of doing the work with integrity. It can be the self satisfaction contentment and happiness that one achieves, which is immeasurable.

Similarly lets try to understand what does one mean by serving.

the best. It means that one performs his/her duty with complete dedication. following the values, moral to achieve a goal of common good.

Not lets talk about how those who serve best achieve profit. Firstly lets start from ~~to~~ our home. Our mother serves the family in best of her capacity with love, affection and care.
and in returns profit from the happiness of the family members and she becomes an example of dedication and hardwork. she nurtured the beautiful family bonds that last her lifetime.

secondaly an individual that serves or function according to the virtue of hardwork, perseverence and dedication achieves not just his goal but also the contentment of doing it. As was seen in case of Ishwar ^{Chandra} Vidya Sagar who served to protect the right of women and earned in terms of respect.

As it is said that no good deed goes unnoticed. Hence one should do his work or duty to best of his capacity. And rise above own personal gain to make the result last ~~strong~~ longer. Because one's duty can become an asset for society and nation.

This was seen in case of Homi Jahangir Bhabha who served the nation in terms of increasing the nuclear capacity of the nation and profited in terms of securing our nation from international activities like attack and terrorism.

similar concept of service was prescribed by great religion leaders. like gurunawanah, he prescribed the concept of "Kar seva" that is service to society to gain the goal.

of finding god. As according to him everyone had a part of god within them and serving humanity ~~meant~~ meant serving god.

The above concept rightly puts focus on those who serve best profits more.

And the profit can vary from servicing the mankind, protection of the nation and or achieving the goal of attaining god.

Hence it becomes that by serving best one can get satisfaction from even doing small things. Happiness that is achieved is second to none and respect that one earns. is unaccountable

Now lets talk about can profit can be earned without doing the best? Yes profit can be achieved but that will only be materialistic and not soul fulfilling.

Earning of profit by using of unethical means can lead to short term satisfaction but will not leave a long lasting impact. Like companies using practices of greenwashing, adulteration and using poor quality product will produce short term gain of profit but in long run will lose the trust and respect of its customers.

Similarly when an individual does his/her duty with intention motive of greed, control of authority and power will profit in terms of achieving control over people by force but this always have a negative end. ^{That culminates into} people rising against him. As was the case of Hitler, who gained in terms of control over Germany but in the end had to suicide.

Hence it is proved that those who do not serve with the best possible outcome and means can only get short term satisfaction. As the shelf life of bad actions is very short and mostly ends with losses than profit.

So it is clear that good service lead to best possible outcome that will be profitable to large number of people as prescribed by the utilitarian principle. Thus the search should be guided by the right faith, right action and right knowledge as proposed by Buddha.

Following of deontological principle of right mean to achieve right goal and putting emphasis on action will in most cases lead to positive and fruitful result.

This was seen in case of India during COVID-19 that by her action of vaccine maitri, export of critical medicine and providing humanitarian assistance to other nations could sow the seed of profit.

in term of goodwill, respect and achieving success in soft diplomacy.

As proposed by Gandhiji, that to know oneself one should lose himself in the service of others. Because when people start serving other they rise above their needs and find a goal, vision and purpose of life. It leads to introspection and self discovery and rise above materialism to altruism.

This was also supported by Bhagvat gita's "Nishkarm Karma". So it is evident that those who serve the best, achieve the greater profit in term of respect, love, happiness and contentment.

because "service to other is service to God"

THE BEST WAY TO PREDICT YOUR FUTURE IS TO CREATE IT

In the year 1947 two nations were born India and Pakistan. And the path that they took for their socio economic development and political representation determined their future.

For India it was of a future full of prosperity. As it created it with dedication to achieve equity in terms socio-economic indicators and took steps like democracy, mixed economy, investment in science technology, education and health. This culminated into it becoming one of the rising power in Asia.

on the other hand Pakistan fostered violence, hate and terrorism, which led them to utilise their limited resource on military, arm race and state sponsored terrorism. which was at the expense of economic development and welfare of citizens. And the result is very clear, which paints a picture of doom and reliance on alms of IMF to sustain itself.

so the above discussion highlight that the best way we can see future or see what the outcome of any process action or step will be through creating it.

The best way to predict future is to create it means how one ^{is} able to "peek into the tomorrow by today's action" so the question arise what is future? why one needs to predicts it? How can one create it? why there is need to create it? and can everything predicted.

PEEK INTO FUTURE

So let's start by understanding what is future. In simple terms it is anything that will happen after current or present time. It can be next minute, hour, day or year all together. So it is a 'frame of time' of reference.

So the next question arises why we need to predict future. We predict future to decide our plan of action because ~~if we plan to fail~~.

"If we fail to plan, then we plan to fail". It helps us to plan, chart our the path and decide the next step. It gives us a cushion to fall back on. And support us in our endeavour ~~or~~ path or journey.

Then comes the next question about how to predict the future. The prediction depends on the past experiences like history. & like the study of human fossil remain help in predicting the future of evolution. or it can be through the data or fact. This is used by the organisation like IMF to predict the economic growth or the study of sea temperature and average weather pattern by Indian meteorological organisation to predict climate.

So the above discussion helps us to understand how the future is predicted and why it is necessary, that brings us to the next discussion of how we can create the future.

FUTURE: WORK IN PROGRESS

The creation of future is work in progress because it requires multiple steps, process and action. The creation is similar to the art of pottery, ^{That is} molding the clay to achieve the desired outcome through his skills and technique monotonously over a long period of time as seen ⁱⁿ ~~by~~ students, working towards their goal and 'burning midnight oil'.

Similarly an individual can create a future through his action. It can vary from doing the same work.

or can be seen by dedication and discipline that one follows to achieve his/her dream. This is seen in case of sportsperson like Nehraj Chopra, Neeraj Chohan, P.V Sindhu and many more. They predicted their future because they created it.

furthermore this process of creation also at times require vision of great leaders that guide the future. The action of likes of Jyotiba Phule, Dr Bhim Rao Ambedkar & Kautilya and many more who took steps to annihilate caste. And thus created a just and equal society through their works.

Moreover the creation requires a dream or hope that act as guiding light of future. The hope act as motivation to stand any adversity and pain. It make one to sustain any pressure or obstacle. This was seen in case of Steve Job who started Apple from a garage and changing the trajectory of the digital technology and IT sector. It can be said that he predicted the current world.

As we have talked about the process of creation of future. Now lets talk about why there is need to create future

There is a need to create future as it gives us the power, agency and control to determine the ~~the~~ action that will affect tomorrow. It gives us the steering wheel to direct the course.

It sometimes we can cause damage to the future through our action. By our attitude of complacency, laziness and inaction. Or sometimes the action can cause more harm than good. Like by letting tension and intolerance to prosper we are predicting a future of tension, war and conflict.

So it is essential that the steps we take create a better future. It can be standing against exploitation and discrimination, that has lead to nation taking steps to curb them and promote equality and justice which was seen in case of raising of voice against Racism by Rosa Parks leading to abolishing of racism in USA.

Similarly we can predict our future by our action. Like in case of combating climate change our actions to pivot to green energy, decarbonisation and loss and damage fund ^{creation} can reduce the progress of climate change. As Lao Tzu said 6 Best time to plant tree was thousand years ago.

And the next best time is today.

Hence above discussion shed light on the relation aspect of future. But a new question arises can we predict everything?

PREDICTION - LIMITATION

Not all the future process can be predicted because some might be a chance, spontaneous event. It can be like mutation that change the whole plan and make the path go haywire.

As not everything is in control of human and some things are in control of god. As it is said 'god is laughing when we are making plans'. This came true during the COVID-19 pandemic when it was not predicted by anybody. whether it be any agency or organisation. And a small microorganism caused havoc in the world.

Similarly many natural disasters like systemic earthquakes, tsunami or volcanic eruption cannot be predicted. Hence it is clear that not everything is in our hand.

So the next question arises that if not everything is predictable should we leave everything on luck. And the answer is no. As it is truth that not everything is predictable. But the steps we take makes us resilient, and determined to steer the ship of.

our life in a favourable direction.

That enables us to come out of any unfavourable condition and achieve our goal. As was seen in case of food security crisis and adoption of green revolution, so by creation of our future we also modify & adapt ourselves

Thus our action, steps, experience and process determine the future so it is essential that take the moral, ethical steps that aim at maximum good. As "Journey is more beautiful than its end".
